1	Even though I had the overhead map provided the boundaries were not well marked, and I spent more time trying to figure out the boundary than hunting.	Feb 8, 2014 5:29 PM
2	Not with a user but the landowner that is next to "I". He would drive up every morning scaring the deer and then sit there on the edge of the road watching me with binoculars. I called the phelps county sheriff and they came out but couldn't really do anything. I was talking to other hunters and he does that to them and yells at them. This would be on the east side of access I. If it wasn't for that I would have had a great experience.	Feb 8, 2014 12:45 PM

In this instance I gave a statement to a police officer and it was handled by the proper authorities. I was simply a witness in that instance. In the other instance I witnessed an eagle caught in a trap and contacted the appropriate authority who immediately handled the situation. Both instances were handled very timely and professionally. 8	The biggest improvement to make is still to find more properties. Public access land still gets crowded. On area H one thing that should be considered is banning target shooting on Bassway Strip during the hunting season. Bassway is just across the river and on several occasions I could hear bullets in the trees overhead from careless target shooting.	Feb 11, 2014 2:40 PM

17	A suggestion would be to try and keep some habitat on the areas. I realize what you and the PRRIP organization are trying to do as well as what PRRIPs program goals are. However, on area B PRRIP took a 500 plus acre property and ruined the majority of the recreational opportunity on that area. Last year it was a great place to hunt for waterfowl,upland game and deer. This year when I went by the area at the start of the hunting season all of the potential upland hunting had been hayed off. What I found interesting was the area that had been hayed then had cattle put back on it. The other portion of the property had been grazed to nearly nothing. The wetland areas are what you are trying to provide for the cranes so I understand cutting that portion of the property but it would be nice to leave the far north area "untouched" and the areas on the East side of	Feb 7, 2014 3:12 PM

	the property to the North and South of that wetland untouched. Just hay around the wetland area where the whooping cranes are more likely to be landing. Maybe I am off on this but from my stand point some of the management practices on these areas make no sense at all. Pumping the areas are great for ducks and if you can get out to hunt early before the freeze it provides great waterfowl hunts.

26	I don't know how to solve this issue but there were multiple times (more times than not) a site would be fully booked but when I arrived no one else was ever there. Many times friends and I would like to go together but can't because it is full and then no one else is there. Like I said there is no real way to prevent this but maybe put on the web site in different locations- If you are not going to hunt cancel your reservation to allow others to use the property. 38	I duck hunted on the J property in december. Unless the entrance moves 1 mile north, I wouldn't hunt this property again. Much too far to walk to blind with all my gear and decoys for a walk-in-only site. The river is perfect and it's a great property but if i were in worse shape, i'd never be able to make that walk to the blind from the parking lot.	Feb 5, 2014 2:21 PM
39	Yes. 1. Coordinate with PF to plant food plots to encourage bird populations. 2. Open up the grassy south side of the Wyoming tract to upland hunting.	Feb 5, 2014 12:40 PM
40	Reduce the number of permission slips slightly, 1 per 150-200 acres and increase the number of youth per adult to two per adult for waterfowl hunting. Offer a youth only week during muzzleloader.	Feb 5, 2014 12:25 PM
41	Have users phone number, type of game hunting, and a map of where they plan to use land.	Feb 5, 2014 12:07 PM
42	A 'counter' to show the number of remaining permission slips available would be helpful when planning to hunt with a partner. If only 4 hunters are allowed, and 3 are already signed up (unknown) it can be time consuming to look for available days with a partner. This was also part of the reason for the problem from #24.	Feb 5, 2014 12:07 PM
43	The property itself if good, however the public shooting range (believe bassway strip) on the other side of the river is ridiculous and dangerous. The shooters have no idea that we are there and we heard multiple bullets wizz through the air.	Feb 5, 2014 11:33 AM

5	Not worth the time area ruined by tree removal	Feb 8, 2014 10:34 AM
6	I really enjoy this program. My last comment was my only concern regarding area B and some of the management that takes place on the areas. I have had a great time on the properties and I am thankful we can hunt them. If nothing changes it is still a great program and people are lucky to be able to access these areas. I think there are some ways to make it better but I also can see how just giving us the chance to hunt these areas is good enough in itself. I think the restricted aspect of this program is great. Most of these areas do not have any trees on them and I have felt safe everytime on the areas whether it was hunting with a shotgun, muzzleloader, or a highpowered rifle. The people that use these areas are very good towards each other and I think the reservation system is that extra step that keeps the "trash" from access these properties. Every person I have talked to has been great to hunt with on the areas and it goes to say that the people hunting these areas are much better people than some of the neighbors to the property. I did not hunt area I this year because I was so sick of the guy on the west side of the property driving and walking his fenceline every night. Clearly he has no life or interest except for ruining adults and kids chances of having a successful hunt. Thanks again for the opportunity to hunt these properties.	Feb 7, 2014 3:12 PM

3	I would like to thank the game and parks for a great idea. I own some land, but no deer come across it. It's an easy way for people to enjoy hunting in Nebraska, without over crowding. As for the land owners complaining next door. You think they would be happy to have a decent fence on at least one side of their place. It's not like we're crossing it.	Feb 15, 2014 4:51 PM

6	Thanks for finding these areas, it is getting more difficult to find places to hunt deer. I also liked the land owner antlerless deer program, although no one ever called me back. Any opportunity to allow for more land access is always welcome. I would also like to thank the state for stepping up and pumping the management areas, as a noticed the majority of the federal areas were not, probably due to the shut down?	Feb 13, 2014 3:17 PM

15	These properties are fantastic to have the opportunity to hunt on. I look forward to hunting them again next year, hopefully with more properties open. Please do not treat this land as many people treat other public land. I love hunting on property that is clean and well managed. I hunted roughly 6-7 times on properties and was checked 0 times. I fear that people will not get permission slips and begin to ruin our hunting experiences. Also, consider implementing a	Feb 6, 2014 1:27 PM

23	Hunting on these properties has given me opportunity to hunt waterfowl along the Platte River on a year where there wasn't very much public water available to hunt in this area. Finding somewhere to hunt waterfowl on a dry year is either really hard or takes an expensive lease, and this program is great because it makes hunting on the river accessable to the public. 32	It would be helpful on the website if you could see how many people have booked a place. A point system for the rifle draw, this could be done next year using the previous draw results, if you have put in 2-3 times, you get your name in the hat to draw 3x and so on. First timers still have a chance to draw, but those that have attempted for several years have a slightly better chance. NGPC is even considering this for the one in a lifetime Elk draw, I think it should be considered. Thanks again PRRIP, NGPC and Ryan for the opportunity.	Feb 5, 2014 11:15 AM

1	We talked to you in person about those problems which involved people who were not permitted to hunt the property. I met 3 of the other 4 people who were permitted and found them all to be easy to work with and we worked with each other to allow all of us to hunt as we liked.	Dec 18, 2013 9:58 PM

1	have parking closer. a long way to pack things in for bow hunting.	Dec 19, 2013 8:38 AM
2	Some way to allow pre-scouting. Maybe a day to put out a trail camera? Not sure how secure they would be even though there is to be no one on the property other than those working the land and wildlife officers. Just something to think about.	Dec 18, 2013 10:05 PM
3	No	Dec 18, 2013 9:45 PM
4	Allow scouting before hunt	Dec 18, 2013 6:59 PM
5	I think area A is a very hit or miss area. The lack of trees on the south side of the river made it difficult to harvest a deer. I only saw two deer the entire time I hunted that area and the other people who were drawn had a tough time and only one harvested a deer that I know of. I don't think Game and Parks can do anything about it and I think it should still be in the program because it can give someone at least a chance but I won't be putting that particular are on my application next year. 9	Allow scouting and semi-permanent blinds	Dec 4, 2013 1:37 PM
10	May allow someone else to help you retrieve the deer at night if you need help, without them being trespassing.	Dec 4, 2013 12:48 PM
11	Advise applicants of the need for carts or sleds to retrieve downed deer.	Dec 4, 2013 12:43 PM
12	Need more habitat, there were no woods, feed nothing. In this area it was just all tumble weeds. All the deer were in property next to G are across the river, one got scared and came across the river and that was it.	Dec 4, 2013 12:02 PM

Page 13, Q29. Are there any outstanding points that you would like to point out as especially helpful for the recreational user on these properties?

1	Not a point so much but a comment. I saw many deer each day I was out and could have harvested one on any of the days I was there. I just was holding out for the "big one" but he wasn't quite as cooperative. Thank you for running this program. I hope to be a successful applicant again next year for the lottery. 6	Great property. Help keep it clean and natural. Follow the rules.	Dec 4, 2013 1:37 PM
7	Great hunting lands. Grad that the organization allow the state to use it for hunting.	Dec 4, 2013 12:48 PM
8	Consider identifying the local manager to the area hunted, and a contact number in case of an emergency.	Dec 4, 2013 12:43 PM
9	Better be prepared to walk miles, and if you go kill one you better have a means to get it all the way back to the parking lot. No 4-wheels can be used, can not drive out to pick up your harvest.	Dec 4, 2013 12:02 PM
10	GOT to meet some great new people...got to see a lot of deer....made some great memories with my son..... If you need me to come speak to your board or present on my experience I would be willing to come do that to continue this program Roger Thomsen 440-1336	Dec 4, 2013 11:20 AM
