If the Work fails to conform to the requirements of this Grant, the State may require Grantee promptly to bring the Work into conformity with Grant requirements, at Grantee's sole expense. If the Work cannot be brought into conformance by re-performance or other corrective measures, the State may require Grantee to take necessary action to ensure that future performance conforms to Grant requirements and exercise the remedies available under this Grant, at law or inequity in lieu of or in conjunction with such corrective measures.

C. Monitoring

Grantee shall permit the State, the federal government, and other governmental agencies having jurisdiction, in their sole discretion, to monitor all activities conducted by Grantee pursuant to the terms of this Grant using any reasonable procedure, including, but not limited to: internal evaluation procedures, examination of program data, special analyses, on-site checking, formal audit examinations, or any other procedures. 11. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Grantee shall not engage in any business or personal activities or practices or maintain any relationships which conflict in any way with the full performance of Grantee's obligations hereunder. Grantee acknowledges that with respect to this Grant, even the appearance of a conflict of interest is harmful to the State's interests. Absent the State's prior written approval, Grantee shall refrain from any practices, activities or relationships that reasonably appear to be in conflict with the full performance of Grantee's obligations to the State hereunder. If a conflict or appearance exists, or if Grantee is uncertain whether a conflict or the appearance of a conflict of interest exists, Grantee shall submit to the State a disclosure statement setting forth the relevant details for the State's consideration. 14. BREACH

A. Defined

In addition to any breaches specified in other sections of this Grant, the failure of either Party to perform any of its material obligations hereunder, in whole or in part or in a timely or satisfactory manner, constitutes a breach. The institution of proceedings under any bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar law, by or against Grantee, or the appointment of a receiver or similar officer for Grantee or any of its property, which is not vacated or fully stayed within 20 days after the institution or occurrence thereof, shall also constitute a breach.

B. Notice and Cure Period

In the event of a breach, notice of such shall be given in writing by the aggrieved Party to the other Party in the manner provided in §16. If such breach is not cured within 30 days of receipt of written notice, or if a cure cannot be completed within 30 days, or if cure of the breach has not begun within 30 days and pursued with due diligence, the State may exercise any of the remedies set forth in §15. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the State, in its sole discretion, need not provide advance notice or a cure period and may immediately terminate this Grant in whole or in part if reasonably necessary to preserve public safety or to prevent immediate public crisis.

15. REMEDIES

If Grantee is in breach under any provision of this Grant, the State shall have all of the remedies listed in this §15 in addition to all other remedies set forth in other sections of this Grant following the notice and cure period set forth in §14(B). The State may exercise any or all of the remedies available to it, in its sole discretion, concurrently or consecutively.

A. Termination for Cause and/or Breach

If Grantee fails to perform any of its obligations hereunder with such diligence as is required to ensure its completion in accordance with the provisions of this Grant and in a timely manner, the State may notify Grantee of such non-performance in accordance with the provisions herein. If Grantee thereafter fails to promptly cure such non-performance within the cure period, the State, at its option, may terminate this entire Grant or such part of this Grant as to which there has been delay or a failure to properly perform. Exercise by the State of this right shall not be deemed a breach of its obligations hereunder. Grantee shall continue performance of this Grant to the extent not terminated, if any.

i. Obligations and Rights

To the extent specified in any termination notice, Grantee shall not incur further obligations or render further performance hereunder past the effective date of such notice, and shall terminate outstanding orders and subcontracts with third parties. However, Grantee shall complete and deliver to the State all Work, Services and Goods not cancelled by the termination notice and may incur obligations as are necessary to do so within this Grant's terms. At the sole discretion of the State, Grantee shall assign to the State all of Grantee's right, title, and interest under such terminated orders or subcontracts. Upon termination, Grantee shall take timely, reasonable and necessary action to protect and preserve property in the possession of Grantee in which the State has an interest. All materials owned by the State in the possession of Grantee shall be immediately returned to the State. All Work Product, at the option of the State, shall be delivered by Grantee to the State and shall become the State's property.

ii. Payments

The State shall reimburse Grantee only for accepted performance up to the date of termination. If, after termination by the State, it is determined that Grantee was not in breach or that Grantee's action or inaction was excusable, such termination shall be treated as a termination in the public interest and the rights and obligations of the Parties shall be the same as if this Grant had been terminated in the public interest, as described herein.

iii. Damages and Withholding Notwithstanding any other remedial action by the State, Grantee also shall remain liable to the State for any damages sustained by the State by virtue of any breach under this Grant by Grantee and the State may withhold any payment to Grantee for the purpose of mitigating the State's damages, until such time as the exact amount of damages due to the State from Grantee is determined. The State may withhold any amount that may be due to Grantee as the State deems necessary to protect the State, including loss as a result of outstanding liens or claims of former lien holders, or to reimburse the State for the excess costs incurred in procuring similar goods or services. Grantee shall be liable for excess costs incurred by the State in procuring from third parties replacement Work, Services or substitute Goods as cover.

B. Early Termination in the Public Interest

The State is entering into this Grant for the purpose of carrying out the public policy of the State of Colorado, as determined by its Governor, General Assembly, and/or Courts. If this Grant ceases to further the public policy of the State, the State, in its sole discretion, may terminate this Grant in whole or in part. Exercise by the State of this right shall not constitute a breach of the State's obligations hereunder. This subsection shall not apply to a termination of this Grant by the State for cause or breach by Grantee, which shall be governed by §15(A) or as otherwise specifically provided for herein.

i. Method and Content

The State shall notify Grantee of such termination in accordance with §16. The notice shall specify the effective date of the termination and whether it affects all or a portion of this Grant.

ii. Obligations and Rights

Upon receipt of a termination notice, Grantee shall be subject to and comply with the same obligations and rights set forth in §15(A)(i).

iii. Payments

If this Grant is terminated by the State pursuant to this §15(B), Grantee shall be paid an amount which bears the same ratio to the total reimbursement under this Grant as the Services satisfactorily performed bear to the total Services covered by this Grant, less payments previously made. Additionally, if this Grant is less than 60% completed, the State may reimburse Grantee for a portion of actual out-of-pocket expenses (not otherwise reimbursed under this Grant) incurred by Grantee which are directly attributable to the uncompleted portion of Grantee's obligations hereunder; provided that the sum of any and all reimbursement shall not exceed the maximum amount payable to Grantee hereunder.

C. Remedies Not Involving Termination

The State, in its sole discretion, may exercise one or more of the following remedies in addition to other remedies available to it:

i. Suspend Performance

Suspend Grantee's performance with respect to all or any portion of this Grant pending necessary corrective action as specified by the State without entitling Grantee to an adjustment in price/cost or performance schedule. Grantee shall promptly cease performance and incurring costs in accordance with the State's directive and the State shall not be liable for costs incurred by Grantee after the suspension of performance under this provision.

ii. Withhold Payment

Withhold payment to Grantee until corrections in Grantee's performance are satisfactorily made and completed.

iii. Deny Payment

Deny payment for those obligations not performed, that due to Grantee's actions or inactions, cannot be performed or, if performed, would be of no value to the State; provided, that any denial of payment shall be reasonably related to the value to the State of the obligations not performed.

iv. Removal

Demand removal of any of Grantee's employees, agents, or Subgrantees whom the State deems incompetent, careless, insubordinate, unsuitable, or otherwise unacceptable, or whose continued relation to this Grant is deemed to be contrary to the public interest or not in the State's best interest.

v. Intellectual Property

Water development of the Bureau of Reclamation Properties, known as the Narrows tract, along the South Platte River, Morgan County, Colorado

BACKGROUND

In 1997 Ducks Unlimited (DU) entered into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the United States Bureau of Reclamation (BOR) to research, develop, and construct wetland resources for waterfowl on Reclamation lands. Through the MOU, DU proposes to develop a series of conjunctive use wetlands that would provide both South Platte River Streamflow Augmentation and waterfowl habitat on four properties, referred to as the BOR Narrows Tract. The tract encompasses 2,288 acres in western Morgan County, all within five miles of the South Platte River (SPR). The properties are located within one of the most significant wetland complexes in the State, known as the “Golden Triangle,” which has been identified by both federal and state waterfowl managers as one of the most important wetland complexes in the Platte River watershed. The mapped SPR alluvium, surface topography, soils, existing water infrastructure, and location of the tracts allow us to believe that the sites are ideally suited river augmentation and development into wetland complexes that have the potential rival a similar high-quality wetland and river augmentation site in Colorado, the Brush Prairie Ponds.

PROPOSED ACTIVITIES

With Water Supply Reserve Account funding and matching funds, Ducks Unlimited (DU) proposes to complete the first of a three-phase project for water and wetland development on four Bureau of Reclamation (BOR) properties, known as the Narrows tract in Morgan County, CO (Exhibit B). Within the Narrows tract, the four properties are individually referred to as the Akers, Cook, Kinnaman, and Lantz tracts. The Cook and Lantz tracts will be developed for South Platte River streamflow augmentation and the Akers and Kinnaman tracts will be developed for shallow water wetland habitat. All four properties will combine to form a multi-beneficial wetland complex that will retine streamflow, restore and create new wildlife habitat, and provide public recreational hunting opportunities.

Specifically this project will include:

- 1.) Securing special use permitting from BOR to develop the properties for program goals;
- 2.) Meeting with water providers, municipalities, agricultural producers, and industrial users to secure site specific agreements for retiming South Platte River streamflow on the Lantz and Cook tracts;
- 3.) Establishing the framework between BOR, Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW), and DU for long-term management and monitoring of the site; and
- 4.) Performing a feasibility study on all four properties (2,288 acres) which includes drilling and installing monitoring wells, performing cadastral and geotechnical surveys, aquifer testing, surface infiltration testing, and final project design.

PROJECT DELIVERABLES

In addition to biannual progress reports, DU will deliver a final report to CWCB detailing the results of the feasibility study, the framework for long-term management of the sites, the water plan (including all partners and contributions), and figures outlining the final streamflow augmentation and shallow water wetland project design.

PROJECT TIMELINE

Begin: At time of contracting (approximately Nov 15, 2015)

End: August 31, 2017

Task 1: Project Administration
Task 2: Site Specific Permitting with BOR
Task 3: Management Framework With BOR and CPW Task 4: Feasibility Study & Project Design
Task 5: Framework for Water Agreements
Task 6: Final Report to CWCB

PROJECT BENEFITS

Water development of the BOR Narrows tracts properties will address multiple needs and gaps outlined in Statewide Water Supply Initiative and the Basin Implementation Plan. Specifically, the project would provide the following benefits:

1. Municipal and Industrial (M&I), and Agriculture – As identified in the BIP, the supply gap for M&I and Agriculture continues to grow as Front Range populations increase. Facing environmental hurdles and high costs associated with creating new reservoirs, streamflow augmentation has become the premier identified Project and Process (IPP) for water needs in the South Platte Basin. This project will help to address the M&I and Agriculture supply gaps by conserving SPR flows in Colorado during the winter and spring months, when demands on the stream are low. The retiming of streamflow from periods of low demand to a period of high demand (summer and early fall) will effectively create “new” water in the system which can be put to beneficial use by a diverse group of water users. The Cook and Lantz tracts are over 1,700 acres combined and have the potential to provide a range of valuable augmentation credits. DU has determined that there is competition from multiple municipalities, ditch companies, agricultural producers, and industrial users to retine water in this reach of the river and once funding is secured, DU will enter into agreements with the participating partners.

2. Environment – Although no environmental gaps were identified in the BIP, this project will have multiple benefits to wildlife and the environment. The primary benefit will be the increase in public migratory bird hunting and viewing opportunities along the South Platte River (SPR) with the restoration and creation of shallow water wetland habitat on the Akers and Kinnaman tracts. The wetlands will aide in maintaining the habitat base for the significant population of nonbreeding waterfowl that utilize the Golden Triangle wetland complex in fall, winter and, especially, spring. The target species for this project include mallards and northern pintails, although all dabbling ducks will benefit. The intent of the project is to increase the availability and quality of shallow-water wetlands to spring and fall migrants, such that body condition is maintained and pre-breeding physiological demands are met. These habitat types are in decline along Colorado’s South Platte River.

The quality of these habitat types, and subsequent bird use, on the tracts is a function of the interaction between plant community and hydrology occurring on the site. Specific plant communities are preferred by waterfowl at different points within their daily, seasonal, and annual life cycles. In the Platte watershed of Colorado, nonbreeding waterfowl prefer temporary and seasonal wetland basins that maintain diverse food resources that are easily accessible. Spring migrants are under extreme energetic demands as they expend up to 15 times their basal metabolic rate during their migratory flights. Simultaneously, they are urgently trying to store the lipids, calcium and iron necessary for successful nesting efforts. Temporary and seasonal wetlands are deemed important because their ‘flashy’ hydroperiods make them exceptionally productive, bearing plentiful amounts of native seeds and important invertebrate foods. Their relatively shallow depths allow dabbling ducks easy access to these resources – an additional benefit to birds trying to maintain overall body condition. The wetlands currently found on the site provide some limited roosting areas for waterfowl in fall, winter and spring, but additional restoration and maintenance work would enhance habitat suitability for nonbreeding populations of wetland dependent waterfowl and other birds.

3. Recreation The 2012 revision of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan took a departure from earlier versions in that it established a goal of: “Growing numbers of waterfowl hunters, other conservationists and citizens who enjoy and actively support waterfowl and wetlands conservation.” This realization of the critical role that waterfowl hunters and other waterfowl enthusiasts bring to the conservation of species drives much of the work proposed here. There remain few opportunities within the South Platte watershed where new wetland complexes with publicly-accessible recreation can be established. Weld and Morgan counties in Colorado record some of the highest waterfowl harvest estimates in the Central Flyway. The South Platte also serves more than 80% of the state’s waterfowl hunters. The identification of areas within this region where high quality waterfowl hunting, birding or other activities can occur and, in turn, foster support for more conservation work, is threatened by the rapid development of land and water resources in the watershed. It is with this in mind that DU proposes the development of recreational resources in conjunction with augmentation and habitat resources on the BOR Narrows tracts.
