You are invited to attend a Tap Fee workshop in Colorado this Fall!

- October 19, Glenwood Springs
- October 28, Loveland
- November 4, Castle Rock

Workshop Purpose: To discuss trends and issues of importance related to tap fees (aka system development charges, plant investment fees, etc.) among neighboring communities, with water utilities, municipalities, developers, and builders. The day will include a mix of presentations and workgroup sessions to discuss trending topics such as: demand based fees, water conservation, growth and development, and the priority topics that participants raise during the day.

Agenda: This will be a one-day workshop (approximately 9am-4pm), and the agendas will be finalized soon. Check back here for updates: <http://westernresourceadvocates.org/about/events/>.

Who Should Attend:

- Water utility staff in Conservation, Finance, Engineering, and Administration
- Municipal/County planners
- Builders and developers
- Consultants

Registration: This event is FREE but registration is REQUIRED, as space is limited and lunch will be provided at no cost to you. This free workshop is made possible by grants from the Colorado Water Conservation Board and the Gates Family Foundation.

Registration is open – please email amelia.nuding@westernresources.org with your name, title and the organization you are with.
