If Grantee fails to perform any of its obligations hereunder with such diligence as is required to ensure its completion in accordance with the provisions of this Grant and in a timely manner, the State may notify Grantee of such non-performance in accordance with the provisions herein. If Grantee thereafter fails to promptly cure such non-performance within the cure period, the State, at its option, may terminate this entire Grant or such part of this Grant as to which there has been delay or a failure to properly perform. iii. Damages and Withholding Notwithstanding any other remedial action by the State, Grantee also shall remain liable to the State for any damages sustained by the State by virtue of any breach under this Grant by Grantee and the State may withhold any payment to Grantee for the purpose of mitigating the State's damages, until such time as the exact amount of damages due to the State from Grantee is determined. The State may withhold any amount that may be due to Grantee as the State deems necessary to protect the State, including loss as a result of outstanding liens or claims of former lien holders, or to reimburse the State for the excess costs incurred in procuring similar goods or services. Grantee shall be liable for excess costs incurred by the State in procuring from third parties replacement Work, Services or substitute Goods as cover.

If this Grant is terminated by the State pursuant to this §15(B), Grantee shall be paid an amount which bears the same ratio to the total reimbursement under this Grant as the Services satisfactorily performed bear to the total Services covered by this Grant, less payments previously made. Additionally, if this Grant is less than 60% completed, the State may reimburse Grantee for a portion of actual out-of-pocket expenses (not otherwise reimbursed under this Grant) incurred by Grantee which are directly attributable to the uncompleted portion of Grantee's obligations hereunder; provided that the sum of any and all reimbursement shall not exceed the maximum amount payable to Grantee hereunder.

C. Remedies Not Involving Termination

The State, in its sole discretion, may exercise one or more of the following remedies in addition to other remedies available to it:

i. Suspend Performance

Suspend Grantee's performance with respect to all or any portion of this Grant pending necessary corrective action as specified by the State without entitling Grantee to an adjustment in price/cost or performance schedule. Grantee shall promptly cease performance and incurring costs in accordance with the State's directive and the State shall not be liable for costs incurred by Grantee after the suspension of performance under this provision.

ii. Withhold Payment

Withhold payment to Grantee until corrections in Grantee's performance are satisfactorily made and completed.

iii. Deny Payment

Grantee may contest the final Evaluation, Review and Rating by: (a) filing rebuttal statements, which may result in either removal or correction of the evaluation (CRS §24-105-102(6)), or (b) under CRS §24-105-102(6), exercising the debarment protest and appeal rights provided in CRS §§24-109-106, 107, 201 or 202, which may result in the reversal of the debarment and reinstatement of Grantee, by the Executive Director, upon a showing of good cause.

Statement of Work-Exhibit A

BACKGROUND

In 2014 the Grand Valley Water Users Association began to seriously investigate Water Banking and methods of creating conserved consumptive use (CCU). After lengthy legal due diligence the Association initiated two projects aimed at examining the operational considerations of CCU and use of the Grand Valley Power Plant as a potential protective mechanism for potential CCU. The successful completion of those investigations led to the "Next Steps" Project which examined the feasibility of creating a GVWUA CCU pilot project. The results of this Project showed that an actual farm scale effort to test CCU was feasible and potentially scalable.

Grand Valley Water Users Association (GVWUA) developed a Conserved Consumptive Use Pilot Program (CCUPP) for 2017. The pilot program will test the willingness of agricultural producers to participate in, and the ability of the GVWUA to administer, a meaningful voluntary, compensated water conservation program within the GVWUA service area while protecting the water rights and interests of the GVWUA and its producers. The effects to and perceptions of the Association membership and the broader rural community will also be considered. Information gained from the 2017 CCUPP will be used to develop a program for 2018, and to further conversations about possible future conservation programs locally and regionally.

The CCUPP program is expected to generate approximately 3,178 acre-feet of conserved consumptive use through conservation activities on 1252.2 acres of land within the GVWUA service area. Project costs total $1,039,615, with payments to cooperators for their conservation efforts comprising the largest expense.

The Colorado Water Conservation Board (CWCB) is providing $200,000 through an Alternative Transfer Method (ATM) grant to help fund this CCUPP program for 2017. The majority of the funding ($839,615) for this project will be provided by the System Conservation Pilot Program (SCPP) and The Nature Conservancy (TNC). This scope of work contains information about the entire project, but will focus on Task 1, Cooperator Payments. CWCB funding will be used solely for Task 1. Tasks 2 through 6 are funded by SCPP and TNC.

TASK 1: COOPERATOR PAYMENTS

The 2017 CCUPP involves 10 farmer Cooperators, 1252.2 acres and 43 fields. The budget for this task reflects the payments to the program Cooperators for their participation in the program. The payments vary between Cooperators based on size of acreage and conservation activity chosen. Cooperators will be paid half at initiation of the conservation program chosen, and half after completion and verification at the end of the irrigation season. SCPP and TNC will fund all initial payments. CWCB will provide a portion of the funding for the final payments.

GVWUA and its selected subcontractor developed the framework for the CCUPP. Multiple options for conserving consumptive use were created to offer flexibility to cooperators. Estimates of water conservation for each option were developed. Compensation rates were determined for each option with consideration of the conservation estimates. Eligibility criteria, acreage limitations and other guidelines were created to ensure a successful program for cooperators that met the goals and objectives of the GVWUA.

Once the framework for the project was completed, GVWUA and its subcontractor contacted shareholders and described the CCU pilot program, different conservation options, terms, requirements and limitations. Interested participants were identified and their eligibility to participate was verified. A lottery system was developed and implemented to choose 10 participants for 2017. GVWUA and its selected subcontractor met with chosen participants to identify the acreage, conservation option and other conservation details for 2017 participation. GVWUA and its subcontractor developed initial monitoring and verification plans for each participant. GVWUA contracted with each participant based on the initial conservation, monitoring and verification plans.

The CCUPP requires cooperators to begin fallowing at the start of the irrigation season (generally April 1st). Each conservation activity has a different completion date. Table 2 describes the different conservation program options and their estimated consumptive use savings. Table 3 summarizes compensation rates for the program activities. Table 4 provides details about the participating cooperators and their acreages and conservation activities. Table 5 provides the breakdown of costs for the cooperator payments based on acreages and conservation activities. Figure 1 includes a map of the GVWUA service area with participating fields identified.

Deliverable: Summary of verification of conservation activities for cooperators, including final costs for cooperator payments. Monitoring and verification will occur as outlined below.

TASK 2: CONTRACTING, MONITORING & COMPLIANCE

(All funds for this task are provided from SCPP and TNC)

GVWUA and its selected subcontractor will confirm that the conservation plan for each participant met all program requirements. Individualized monitoring and verification plans will be updated for each participant based on their conservation option and plan, participation and how the 2017 growing season progresses. GVWUA and its subcontractor will perform monitoring and verification tasks regularly throughout the 2017 growing season to ensure the conservation plan is properly implemented, monitored and verified. Information from the 2017 conservation, monitoring and verification activities will be analyzed and compiled into a report (task 4).

The GVWUA contractor will confirm that all requirements of entering the program are met on a field-by-field basis. This involves obtaining sufficient data and documentation for each field to verify that the farmer Cooperator has had control of the irrigated field for a minimum of the previous 3 irrigation seasons. The contractor must also verify that the total acreage entered into the program by each Cooperator does not exceed 50% of the total irrigated acreage under the control of the Cooperator that receives water from the GVVUA system.

After verification that each individual field meets the criteria outlined by the GVVUA board of directors the contractor will meet individually with each Cooperator explaining contract terms, requirements, and expectations and discussing appropriate fallow management.

Before the beginning of the irrigation season, the contractor will contact each Cooperator and deliver the first (1/2) payment for participation in the program. At this time, the Contractor will verify the conservation plan and the fallow management practices to be undertaken by the Cooperator throughout the season.

Verification of program compliance throughout the season will consist of a minimum of 3 site visits to each field in the program. The first visit will be on or near the first day that irrigation water is available. The second visit will be near the mid-point of the fallow period, and the final visit will be made at the end of the fallow period. Should the contractor find that a field is not in compliance or is nearing a condition of non-compliance the contractor will contact the Cooperator and give them 7 days to remedy the problem.

Tasks:

- a. Create contract documents, modify as necessary per individual contract.
- b. Verify field by field compliance with program rules.
- c. Conduct monitoring site visits throughout the growing season as per monitoring and verification plans.
- d. Update monitoring and verification plans for each participant.

TASK 3: PROJECT MANAGEMENT & OUTREACH

(All funds for this task are provided from SPCP and TNC)

The project management component of this project consists of traditional project management for a $1,000,000+ project as well as additional meetings (monthly) with the GVVUA board of directors to report on the current state of the project and any successes or potential problems. Outreach to interested parties is also included in this task as well as monitoring of the protective mechanism utilized to shepherd the CCU.

This task also includes additional meetings and presentations to interested and skeptical members of the community. It also includes outreach activities associated with a project of this type that is at the forefront of demand management and upper basin drought resiliency. Outreach activities will take the form of tours given to interested parties. 5 tours are planned at 2 days apiece. Interested members of the rural community including farmers, rancher, ditch companies, and public, private, and philanthropic members of the Colorado River water community will be kept apprised of the progress of the activities and results of the CCUPP GVVUA and its subcontractor will estimate, track and administer conserved consumptive use as necessary. GVVUA and its subcontractor will also analyze use of and protection of water rights throughout the system. The location of the project and the protective mechanism utilized to allow for the CCU to be conveyed through the GVVUA diversion and conveyance facilities and to the 15-mile reach of the Colorado River is a unique mechanism, and one that allows for additional benefits of the CCUPP. However, the protective mechanism changes throughout the season based on river conditions. GVVUA and their contractor will monitor river flows and verify that during certain flow regimes the water is correctly accounted for. This will require discussions with Division 5 and others. A call may need to be placed on the river during operation of the CCUPP and it is of critical importance that the call is placed appropriately and only when necessary.

Tasks:

- a. Manage project budgets
- b. Attend BOD meetings and report regularly
- c. Organize and conduct outreach events associated with the project
- d. Estimate conserved consumptive use and track it through the system
- e. Analyze use and protection of water rights throughout system and coordinated with Division 5 as necessary

TASK 4: EVALUATION OF PROJECT & REPORTING

(All funds for this task are provided from SCPP and TNC)

GVWUA and its subcontractor will analyze and evaluate data and information regarding the 2017 program to develop a program for 2018 as deemed appropriate. Data and information evaluated will include: interest in participation, interest in the different program activities offered, requirements of participants (e.g. fallow management and weed control), concerns of participants and other producers in the system, monitoring, verification, estimated conserved consumptive use, water rights, administration of CCU, staff and monetary costs to develop and administer the 2017 program, lessons learned from the 2017 program and any other relevant information.

Evaluation will consist of a brief final report outlining process and procedures throughout the season, program successes and any shortfalls. The report will be written attempting to incorporate the perspective of the individual Cooperators as well as the GVWUA staff and Board of directors and other project stakeholders.

Recommendations for a longer term and larger scale project will be developed. These recommendations will either be incorporated into the final report or as an individual memorandum by contractor addressed to the GVWUA board of directors.

Potential opportunities for further pilot projects will also be incorporated into the final report or a separate memorandum.

Interested members of the rural community including farmers, rancher, ditch companies, and public, private, and philanthropic members of the Colorado River water community will be kept apprised of the progress of the activities and results of the CCUPP

Tasks:

1. Evaluate pilot program success and document lessons learned from the perspective of individual participants, GVWUA staff and board, and the WBWG.
2. Develop recommendations for a longer-term water bank program with GVWUA.
3. Identify considerations for other water users considering a water bank pilot project.

TASK 5: GVWUA INFRASTRUCTURE IMPROVEMENTS

(All funds for this task are provided from TNC)

There are three reasons for including an infrastructure component to the CCUPP funding plan. First, there are questions of equity that must be addressed. One key question is what might a farm operator that is not a current cooperator or nonfarm Association member realize from this Pilot. An investment in infrastructure benefits all Association members, CCUPP cooperators or not.

Second, this Pilot requires large investments of time on the part of Association staff. The Association needs to have a sound reason for committing such resources to a single project. An infrastructure component to the funding plan provides that necessary compensation and incentive.

Finally, the potential of adding an ongoing revenue stream to fund infrastructure rehabilitation is an intriguing possibility in the face of increasingly urgent facility needs.

TASK 6: FOREGONE EXCESS WATER SALES REVENUE

(All funds for this task are provided from TNC)

The Cooperators in the 2017 CCUPP will not be purchasing any water above their base assessment. The forgone revenue is estimated to be $40,070 in unrealized Association revenue from water sales during 2017.

CONTRACTOR FEES

(All funds for contractor fees are provided from TNC)

The GVVUA has contracted a significant amount of the administrative work associated with this project to J-U-B Engineers, Inc. The work is being completed out of their western Colorado office (Palisade, CO). The majority of the contracted work is associated with tasks 2, 3 and 4 above.
