Water Project Justification

This project aligns specifically with 2 of the 12 goals the basin is centered around: broadening communications, outreach, and education and maintaining and promoting reuse. The basis of this project and our program is to broaden education amongst our youth. This could arguably be one of the most important things we can do to help maintain conservation and reuse. Creating a passion for this in our younger generations will help to meet these goals for generations to come. With the help from this grant, we can supply over 1,000 students with conservation kits to give them real opportunities to save water and further the effort of conservation in our communities.

Description

The Water Ambassador program has professional trainers visit classrooms and teach hands-on, engaging lessons about water conservation and where water comes from. To better serve our students and communities we would love to provide each student with a “Conservation Kit”. Students would receive these kits at the end of the Water Ambassador’s visit. This will ensure the conversation continues after the lesson and allows real life conservation opportunities for students and their families to make changes in their homes and communities.
