You are correct. Thank you. I am in Denver. Did not have service on most of the trip.

Thanks

Don

Don - I will approve your request for an extension of the decision dates for the four technical revisions (TRs) that are currently under review. I will write a more formal response letter to you, in addition to this quick email.

However, first I want to make sure I have summarized correctly what your series of emails yesterday were conveying:

The current decision date for each of the TRs is set for November 6, 2013. The TRs are not presently adequate for approval, the reasons for which are set forth in each review letter we sent to you. You are asking for a 30-day extension for all the decision dates, effectively moving the decision dates to December 6, 2013.

Please confirm that this is correct, and I will send a response letter to you today.

Thank you - Bob

With my crazy schedule traveling to Denver, 30 days would be good.

Don - As before, here is the review letter for the Hawkeye TR-03. I'll approve an extension request, for all 4 of the technical revisions, but I need to know a specific length of time or a specific date.

Looking forward to hearing from you on that.

Thanks - Bob
