RE: Juniper Quarry, Permit No. M-1982-141, Technical Revision Extension Date

Ms. Yeldell:

Moffat Limestone did receive the Estimated Reclamation Cost Update you sent out on December 23, 2015 that talks about your site inspection findings from November 24, 2015. Based on these finding and new reclaim cost calculations our bond rate would increase $55,309.00. Also, you have requested that we submit a new Technical Revision by Thursday, March 10, 2016 which might help to reduce this cost increase.

I have started on the Technical Revision, but due to an above normal amount of snow fall this year and winter time conditions, it is going to be difficult to do some of the required field work and site review until the snow melts and muddy conditions dry up. My best guess on this will be sometime in mid to late April. I would ask that the Division take these things into consideration and grant an extension date to receiving our Technical Revision on or before Tuesday May 31, 2016? I still believe that this would give you time to review and respond, and once excepted, time for us to have the work completed to satisfy the TR before the inspection date of September 15, 2016 that you have set.

Thanks for your consideration in this extension date, I look for to hearing your decision. If you have any question or concerns please call me at 970-824-0382

Sincerely,

Mike Anson
