

EXHIBIT I

Soils

Due to the fact that the affected land is within Federal Land, the Soil Conservation District does not have any information on the soils type at this location.

An on-site inspection was made of the affected lands and the soil condition was examined. A complex of shale and limestone rock outcropping generally makes up the area. Air, root and water penetration is limited.