Subject: Seeking background on Bowie's proposed coal waste gasification plant

To: "jason.musick@state.co.us" <jason.musick@state.co.us>

Mr. Musick:

I see on DRMS's imaged document website the attached application from Bowie for a "DAXIOM" facility at their No. 2 mine (C1996083) to "convert coal mine waste to synthetic gas which is then used either to generate electrical power or diesel fuel oil." The document indicates that Bowie included three volumes of attachments (which I didn't find on your website) with its application, including maps, figures, and text.

I'm curious to understand what this DAXIOM plant is, and am hoping the attachments will give me a better idea. Can you email the attachments to me, or let me know where I can find them online? And if it's easier to discuss this over the phone, please call me at 303 996 9622.

Thank you.

Ted Z.
