Mr. Cazier,

I would like to suggest that no road come within 200 feet of any existing recreational trail.

Outdoor recreation contributes more than $62 billion to the Colorado economy. Fremont County and Canon City have been diligently working to expand the local trail systems to attract mountain bikers, hikers and equestrians. After years of investment, in dollars and sweat equity, Canon City has finally achieved the volume of trails needed to attract out of town users for weekend use. Any loss of trails (especially the highly popular, non-technical/accessible, and beautiful Section 13 trails) would jeopardize these tourist dollars and negatively impact the Canon City economy.

Sincerely,

Paul Cording
