2022 Moores mining, LLC Annual Report

Mining in late 2021 and early 2022 was hit and miss from all of the problems with Co-vid 19 and the mining pace was slower than hoped and little progress was made. From May to now the mining has been at a very rapid pace. There still remains a small area to finish mining on the east end and when that is completed the south slope will be graded and seeded. Hope that happens in the spring of 2023. We are nearing the end of the bonded area on the west side of the pit and some time in 2023 will need to bond another couple acres to keep mining. We would prefer to just bond a couple acres at a time and not open the whole unit if that is possible. The dozer push time for reclamation should remain about the same as we advance to the west with the only real added cost being the planting of additional acres when stockpiles and equipment is removed from pit floor. I would anticipate we raise the bond $10,000.00 to do a couple more acres. The pit floor will not be planted until the equipment and stockpile area is no longer needed .
