Peter, thanks for the reminder. I can provide a brief update:

#1 – CCC BOCC approved rezoning on 3/21/2023 and Official Development Plan was recorded 5/2/2023 (attached)

#2-#5 – we have not started disturbance in the Spur area yet so these are not yet applicable

#6 – CDOT looks at hillsides periodically, when they contact us with any concerns, we'll work with them

#7 – second seismic unit was installed 5/17/2023 in the Spur area and is operational. It is on the south ridge. We figured this was the best location to capture any impacts to the south-southwest (Floyd Hill) and to the east (Douglas Mtn). Aerial of location and a picture of the unit taken today are below.

Taken from south ridge looking north across the saddle to the ridge on the north side of the saddle.
