2023 Moores Mining, LLC annual Report

Mining in late 2022 has been rapid until the winter months when we had a record moisture and snow fall that hampered mining and reclamation until late spring of 2023, after the late spring mining has been very fast and we have almost mined all of the area that was opened up in 2022 and are nearing the point that we will need to open up a couple of acres to continue in late 2023 and 2024. The dozer time for reclamation should not change much as we will have one push as we move to the west on one face. The seeding cost would be the only extra bonded cost which cannot take place on the floor until stockpiles and equipment is removed and that area will be needed until the stockpiles and equipment is moved to the west.
