

Supplemental notes for Agnus Dei Lode claim CMC No. 285907

Only hand-digging and assessment work was performed during season 2023.

The area is completely filled from downslope gravel movement, which is characteristic of the surrounding ridgeline.

There is no vegetation except minor shrubs around the edges of in place boulders at the dig site.

Seed will not take on skree or talus slopes, which this is.

Minor work will be done this season to move some of the dump pile to the south along the slope contour to give additional room for work.
