Good Afternoon John,

I wanted to reach out to you all regarding the Meadow Hollow Quarry, M-2009-006.

It recently came to mine and Jocelyn's attention that a change of contact form was submitted for this permit via ePermitting on 2/25/25 after the RTB letter was sent out on 2/4/25, changing the permittee, permitting, and inspection contacts from John Holliday to Bryce Bohl. Also, the annual report submittal on 2/25/25 included an attachment with an operating agreement for Premier Stone LLC, showing that the new permit contact, Bryce Bohl is half owner of that company (which was a little confusing to us since Premier Stone is not the Permittee). Around that same time, the registered agent for Colorado Quarry I, LLC was changed on the CO Secretary of State website to Bryce Bohl.

In light of these recent actions, I just wanted to clarify a few things:

- 1) John Holliday is the entity that signed the performance warranty and financial warranty forms for this permit on behalf of Colorado Quarry I, LLC (Permittee), and is the only entity currently authorized to represent the Permittee with DRMS and the MLRB.
- 2) If other entities (other than John Holliday) will be representing the Permittee with DRMS and MLRB matters (including submitting documents or speaking to the MLRB at the upcoming hearing), we will need a notarized affidavit on Colorado Quarry I, LLC letterhead, signed by John Holliday, authorizing such entities to act on behalf of Colorado Quarry I, LLC for this permit, and confirming their legal authority to act on behalf of Colorado Quarry I, LLC. This means that no one other than John Holliday will be authorized to speak to the MLRB on behalf of the Permittee, until we have received the affidavit described above.
- 3) If you wish to change the Permittee from Colorado Quarry I, LLC to Premier Stone, LLC, this can only be done through the Succession of Operators process, through which, updated right-of-entry (ROE) documentation, structure agreements, and warranty forms would need to be provided for the new company name. (The Permittee cannot be changed through the annual reporting process.)
- 4) The Conversion application (112c) required for the off-site affected lands must be submitted by Colorado Quarry I, LLC and signed by John Holliday, unless an appropriate affidavit is provided authorizing other entities to act on behalf of Colorado Quarry I, LLC. Additionally, all ROE, structure agreements, and warranties need to be submitted by Colorado Quarry I, LLC (unless a 3rd party FW form is chosen).
- 5) The RTB letter that was sent on 2/4/25 and the upcoming enforcement hearing are directed to the Permittee, John Holliday of Colorado Quarry I, LLC, and he will be the responsible party for submitting any corrective actions or civil penalties imposed by the MLRB for this permit.

Please respond to this email no later than 5:00 pm tomorrow, (Fri) 3/14, acknowledging your understanding and acceptance of these items, and letting us know if/when you plan to submit an affidavit to have other individuals represent Colorado Quarry I, LLC at the hearing.

Feel free to reach out with any questions.
