Section II--Justification for Action

Justification

The mine operator has gathered geotechnical data from a multitude of sources (both internal and external) regarding the stability of the affected area. This data indicates the previous slide is not at risk of moving any further and would remain stable in its location. The mine operator has constructed a rockfall berm that would contain any future rockfall activity and has implemented additional safety measures when traveling through the affected area. The mine operator has also proposed a mining plan that would allow for mining activities to take place without placing miners directly atop or below potentially unstable rock. This 103(k) order is hereby terminated.
