RE: Review of 2024 Annual Report – Permits M1981085 and M1981086

The Northern Colorado Water Conservancy District (NCWCD) is responding to the letter received on December 23, 2024, regarding discrepancies in the reported affected areas for permits M1981085 and M1981086.

Upon review, we identified that the affected areas were misrepresented in our previous annual reports due to a mix-up between the total permitted quarry area and the actively mined area. These figures have been corrected in the 2025 annual report submittal, which now accurately reflects the affected areas at each facility.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.
