

An aerial photograph of an industrial facility, likely a power plant or refinery. The image shows various structures, including buildings, storage tanks, and piping. Two yellow pushpins are placed on the image to mark specific locations. The first pushpin is located near a large white building on the left side of the image. The second pushpin is located near a smaller white building in the center of the image. A white rectangular box is drawn around the second pushpin. The text "Breaker Building" is overlaid on the image near the first pushpin, and "Breaker Building Shed" is overlaid near the second pushpin.
