

f. tonnage requirements will dictate excavated disturbance dimensions. The bottom of the pit will be relatively level with high walls on either side of the excavated face, until reclamation process begins, at which time maximum gradient of reclaimed slopes will be 3:1. Stockpile dimensions will be kept to a minimum, since processed material will be hauled and placed as soon as possible.