July 21-22, 2021
Agenda Item 16(c)

Applicant & Grantee: Owl Mountain Partnership

Water Activity Name: Jackson County Irrigation Infrastructure Improvement Project

Water Activity Purpose: Agricultural, Nonconsumptive (Environmental & Recreational) - Implementation

County: Jackson County

Drainage Basin: North Platte Basin

Water Source: Arapaho Creek, Chedsey Creek, Little Grizzly Creek & Michigan River

Amount Requested: $320,537 North Platte Basin Account
$320,537 Total Request

Matching Funds: Basin Account Match = $150,136 (cash)
• 31.9% of Total Project Cost (meets 25% min)

Staff Recommendation:
Staff recommends approval of up to $320,537 from the North Platte Basin Account to help fund the project: Jackson County Irrigation Infrastructure Improvement Project

Water Activity Summary: If approved, the applicant would use WSRF to fund the replacement of: the existing head gate and measuring device on the 969 Ditch; the existing head gate, an old dilapidated check structure and turnout on the Chapman Ditch and Staples Ditch; an old dilapidated check structure on the Squibob Ditch, the Antelope Ditch; an old dilapidated measuring device that currently exists on the Antelope Ditch.

WSRF funds would also fund the installation of new measuring devices on the Nairin Ditch, the Darling Ditch and the installation of a new check structure and turnout on the Willow Ditch.

These structures address both agricultural and environmental water needs in a cost effective and collaborative way, while providing irrigation water to multiple individuals that irrigate over 3,515 acres of hay and pasture land in Jackson County. The irrigation water also creates irrigation induced wetlands and riparian areas that provide habitat for many wildlife species as well as multiple recreational opportunities.

The applicant states this proposal will result in: an estimated 10% efficiency savings in the control and use of the 293 cfs that is utilized for irrigation purposes and approximately 4,000 acres of preserved habitat.

Discussion: This project is in alignment with Colorado Water Plan and the North Platte Basin Implementation Plan goals and objectives to continue to restore, maintain, and modernize critical water infrastructure to preserve current uses and increase efficiencies.

Issues/Additional Needs: No issues or additional needs have been identified.

Water Activity Overview

Please provide a summary of the proposed water activity (200 words or less). Include a description of the activity and what the WSRF funding will be used for specifically (e.g. studies, permitting, construction). Provide a description of the water supply source to be utilized or the water body affected by the activity. Include details such as acres under irrigation, types of crops irrigated, number of residential and commercial taps, length of ditch improvements, length of pipe installed, area of habitat improvements. If this project addresses multiple purposes or spans multiple basins, please explain.

The Applicant shall also provide, in Exhibit A, a detailed Statement of Work, Budget, and Schedule.

The Owl Mountain Partnership proposes to install and/or replace the following water control structures.

1. Replace an old, dilapidated existing headgate and measuring device that currently exists on the 969 Ditch.
2. Replace an old, dilapidated existing headgate that currently exists on the Chapman Ditch.
3. Replace an old dilapidated check structure and turnout that currently exists on the Chapman Ditch.
4. Replace an old dilapidated check structure that currently exists on the Squibob Ditch.
5. Replace an old dilapidated check structure and turnout that currently exists on the Antelope Ditch.
6. Replace an old dilapidated measuring device that currently exists on the Antelope Ditch.
7. Install a new measuring device on the Nairin Ditch.
8. Install a new measuring device on the Darling Ditch.
9. Install a new check structure and turnout on the Willow Ditch.
10. Replace an old dilapidated check structure and turnout that currently exists on the Staples Ditch.
11. Owl Mountain Partnership will provide Project Management duties for this grant project.

Five percent of the money requested from the North Platte Basin Roundtable will be used for project management conducted by Owl Mountain Partnership. The remaining dollars requested will go directly toward materials and installation costs.

These structures address both agricultural and environmental water needs in a cost effective and collaborative way, while providing irrigation water to multiple individuals that irrigate over 3515 acres of hay and pasture land in Jackson County. The irrigation water also creates irrigation induced wetlands and riparian areas that provide habitat for many wildlife species as well as multiple recreational opportunities.

Ninety-five percent of the requested WSRA funds will be used in the actual construction and installation of these shovel ready structures. The remaining five percent of the requested funds will be used for the clerical/administration costs associated with the project.

Water Activity Justification

Provide a description of how this water activity supports the goals of Colorado's Water Plan, the most recent Statewide Water Supply Initiative, and the respective roundtable Basin Implementation Plan and Education Action Plan ⁽¹⁾. The Applicant is required to reference specific needs, goals, themes, or Identified Projects and Processes (IPPs), including citations (e.g. document, chapters, sections, or page numbers).

For applications that include a request for funds from the Statewide Account, the proposed water activity shall be evaluated based upon how well the proposal conforms to Colorado's Water Plan criteria for state support (CWP, Section 9.4, pp. 9-43 to 9-44;) (Also listed pp. 4-5 in 2020 WSRF Criteria and Guidelines).

Colorado's Water Plan (CWP) aims to close the gap between projected supply and demand in each basin, while also addressing the effects of a changing climate on our water resources (CWP 2019, pg. 1). In effort to support the goals of CWP, one of the goals for the North Platte Basin (NPB) is to continue to restore, maintain, and modernize critical water infrastructure to preserve current uses and increase efficiencies (NPBIP 2015, pg. 2; CWP 2019, pg. 109). In effort to meet this goal, the NPB seeks to identify specific locations where infrastructure requires improvement or replacement to preserve or maximize existing uses (NPBIP 2015, pg. 21; CWP 2019, pg. 109-113).

The North Platte BIP identifies parcels of historically irrigated or potentially irrigable land that may be irrigated in the future if infrastructure improvements are made and water rights secured. Altogether, the North Platte BIP identified seven planned agricultural development projects throughout the basin that totalled a potential increase of 10,576 irrigable acres (CWP 2019, pg. 112). These additional irrigable acres will increase agricultural diversion demand in the future. Although some technology improvements may occur, climate impacts will serve to increase the agricultural gap by 8 to 16 percent. Annual agricultural gaps can vary significantly and are more pronounced in dry years (CWP 2019, pg. 116). The Owl Mountain Partnership has identified multiple sites for infrastructure improvement and is proposing to: install and/or replace four water control structures if awarded this grant funding.

In many cases restoration or modernization efforts serve to address multiple purposes, such as improved diversion reliability and accuracy, lower maintenance costs, the potential addition of hydropower generation, and improved fish passage (NPBIP 2015, pg. 21). Each of the proposed structures is critical in maintaining the delivery of existing irrigation water to storage and/or currently irrigated land. Complete failure of these structures will result in decreased irrigation efficiency and irrigated acreage within the watershed. Replacing and/or installing new structures will allow the water users to safely, more effectively and more efficiently control and regulate the amount of water in each of their associated ditches.

The North Platte Basin includes about 0.02 percent of the statewide population. Between the years 2015 and 2050, it is projected to change from approximately 1,400 to between 1,100 and 1,500 people in the low and high growth projections, respectively. This ranges from a 22 percent decrease in population to an increase of 8 percent (CWP 2019, pg. 113). With a potential increase of 10,576 irrigable acres recognized, investing in irrigation efficiency improvements is necessary for NPB agriculture now and into the future. Installing these improved structures will not only help to maintain our current agriculture economic base, but they will help to meet the identified consumptive need of increasing irrigated acres and storage within the county. Improved water efficiency and control is a benefit to all consumptive and associated non-consumptive uses of irrigation water.

Another one of the NPB goals is to maintain healthy rivers and wetlands through the strategic implementation of projects that meet prioritized non-consumptive needs (NPBIP 2015, pg. 2; CWP 2019, pg. 109). Healthy rivers have always been a critical component to the economy and way of life in the NPB.

Water Activity Justification

The North Platte Basin Implementation Plan and the Colorado Water Plan address the integral relationship between the consumptive and non-consumptive benefits. The NPB Roundtable stands to build on their prioritization of non-consumptive water needs by further focusing on water project efforts. The proposed structures address both the consumptive and non-consumptive water needs in a cost-effective and collaborative way. In addition to irrigating the highly valuable hayland, the irrigation water also creates irrigation-induced wetland and riparian areas that provide habitat for many species of big game, migratory waterfowl, Sandhill Cranes and Greater Sage Grouse. The ditches, wetlands and riparian areas improved through irrigation water structure improvement projects also enhance outdoor recreational opportunities for locals and visitors who enjoy hunting and watching wildlife in Jackson County. (NPBIP 2015, Section 2.4, pg. 36; CWP 2019, Section 4.6, pg. 109)

Ben,

The North Platte Basin Roundtable voted to approve Owl Mountain Partnerships' application to fund the installation of 11 head gates and measuring devices in eight ditches for the amount of $320,537, to come from the North Platte Basin Account funds. The application received ten votes in support, two members recused themselves and one member voted 'No' stating that thirteen days was not sufficient time to review the proposal.

This project is in alignment with Water Plan and BIP goals and objectives and will improve the irrigated acres per a Supreme Court decree.
